Description

Presenting 'Huntress', a highly developed 2006 Sydney Yachts 39CR that offers the ideal balance of serious racing performance and genuine cruising comfort. Designed by Murray Burns Dovell, the Sydney 39CR has built a reputation as one of Australia's most successful racer-cruisers, and 'Huntress' has been thoughtfully upgraded to make the most of that pedigree. Featuring a Sydney 40 racing keel, carbon fibre mast, retractable carbon bowsprit and sugar scoop transom, she has been professionally optimised for competitive IRC and ORC racing while remaining practical enough to enjoy with family and friends.

Below deck you'll find a surprisingly spacious three-cabin layout with all the comforts needed for weekends away or longer coastal passages. The galley is well equipped with generous refrigeration, the saloon is bright and comfortable, and the reliable 30hp Yanmar saildrive makes getting to and from the dock effortless. Whether you're lining up for your next regatta or planning a cruise up the coast, 'Huntress' is equally at home doing both.

Key features:

- Sydney 40 racing keel upgrade
- Carbon fibre fractional mast with retractable carbon bowsprit
- New rod standing rigging (2024)
- B&G H5000 instrumentation with Zeus 3 navigation
- Extensive Doyle, North and MacDiarmid sail wardrobe
- Spacious three-cabin accommodation
- Reliable 30hp Yanmar diesel saildrive
- Premium Harken deck hardware throughout

Boats that genuinely perform on the racecourse often ask you to compromise on comfort, but Huntress manages to deliver both. She's clearly been owned by people who understand performance sailing and have invested in all the right areas, resulting in a boat that's ready to race, cruise, or simply enjoy from day one.
