Description

Offering generous spaces and sailing autonomy, the 42 LC is available in two versions; standard or sport. The former is equipped with aft benches, and a carbon arch over the cockpit, designed to keep this area free of the mainsheet traveller.

Cantiere del Pardo uses cutting-edge production processes and market leading materials for the construction of this stunning yacht. The internal frame is made of carbon and GRP composite reinforcement, glued and laminated to the hull to support areas of important loads such as the keel, the shrouds and the mast, making the integrity of the entire craft extremely safe.

The interior layout showcases timeless finishes and is available in either two or three cabin versions, with both offering two heads with a shower. In the three cabin version, the layout includes two twin aft cabins. It is possible to choose, for the aft starboard cabin, the V-shaped bed split into two single beds. In the saloon, a three-seater sofa is found on the starboard side, while the central seat can be transformed into a chart table. The L-shape galley is equipped with a main fridge and a optional second one, as well as many storage areas.

This exquisite yacht is perfect for the family to explore our Australian waters and beyond. Contact SMB today to discover this stunning vessel!
