Description

The Grand Soleil 65 Long Cruise combines Italian design and top-tier craftsmanship, bringing together a talented team from Cantiere del Pardo. Naval architecture by Matteo Polli, Nauta Design's elegant interior and exterior, Marco Lostuzzi's structural development, and Franco Corazza's project management have created a vessel known for performance, style, and innovation.

Designed for easy handling with a small crew, the Grand Soleil 65 Long Cruise offers both comfort and safety, even on long journeys. Its architecture, inspired by the Grand Soleil 72, features a V-shaped bow, low-wet surface, and high stability for exceptional sailing. The spacious interior layout maximises comfort and autonomy, ideal for Blue Water cruising.

Above and below deck, every inch is crafted for functionality and volume. The step-free deck ensures safe movement, and the raised deckhouse with a 270° view window is a standout feature. Cantiere del Pardo and Nauta Design have meticulously designed the deck and interior layouts to superyacht standards, with ergonomics, stowage, and high-quality accessories at the forefront. The Long Cruise range embodies easy handling, autonomy, and ample space for extended, comfortable voyages.
