Description

This gorgeous Charter Boat filled with loads of history is now For Sale.

Macleay Cruises was built in 1985 at Goat Island in Sydney by the Maritime Services Board as a staff ferry between Goat Island, McMahon's Point and Circular Quay. She was converted to a charter boat in 1999 and has been enjoyed by many Hen's Party's, Christmas Party's and social get-togethers.

Macleay Cruises can take up to 26 pax and is often seen cruising around Sydney Harbour and the Lane Cove River. She is in 1E Survey for 26 + 1 and 2E for 12 + 1.

She would be great for someone starting out in the industry. She is a Coxswain boat and is very easy to handle. There is plenty of undercover area as well as a great outside seating area to enjoy the views that Sydney has to offer. There is an awning to protect you from the sun if it gets too hot as well as a great bbq to cook up a storm whilst on charter.

This is a little slice of Sydney Maritime History that's not to be missed.

She has just had her annual antifoul and annodes replaced (May 2023) along with its yearly maintenance schedule.

This charter boat has all the makings for a fabulous business.

Please feel free to call the team at Sydney Marine Brokerage for more information and to organise a viewing.
